

THIS was the realistic scene as the R.A.A.F. conducted its fire-fighting test at Amberley. Columns of dense smoke billowed from a blazing Lincoln bomber wreck. A member of the fire crew was racing in with a hose from the chemical foam tanker.

5-9-62

● No, this Lincoln is not snow-bound at Point Cook. This picture was taken during a fire-fighting demonstration by RAAF fire-fighters. What looks like snow is really foam, used as an effective fire killer.

RAAF NEWS